Richard E. Womack Memorial Garden

On Saturday, May 24, 1980, in an impressive ceremony the new Richard E. Womack Memorial Garden was dedicated. Much work and effort had gone into the preparation of this garden.

A group of early Lambuth graduates, who had attended Lambuth during the presidency of Dr. Womack and who knew first-hand the tremendous sacrifices he had made to keep Lambuth open during the Great Depression, were concerned that there was no permanent memorial to Dr. Womack on the campus. Their goals were to have a monument in the center of campus life as an everlasting reminder of Dr. Womack's achievements and also to create an out-of-doors center for campus life . . . "a gathering place between or before class."

A committee was formed including Reverend and Mrs. Artie Bivens, Miss Elizabeth Boren, Reverend Marcus Gurley, Mrs. Helen Ross, with Mrs. Jewel Tucker as chairman.

This committee was able to raise from approximately 153 alumni contributors the considerable monies to re-construct the area outside the main campus entrance of Jones Hall. Professor Larry Ray of the Art Department acted for the committee as the designer and also sculpted the larger than life size bust of Dr. Womack which was cast in bronze and set in place on a large Georgia granite pedestal.

The landscaping of the garden has never been completed and will be added to as funds are available.

Freshman Orientation

Freshmen and transfer students started arriving on campus for orientation a few days before classes began. These five days were a time for the new students to get to know one another and the facilities on campus, and to be greeted by the administration, faculty, and staff.

During the orientation the students met with their faculty advisors and upperclass student counselors. They discussed such subjects as scheduling, campus organizations, and the "mysteries" of registration.

Other activities included a reception and banquet with entertainment provided by the faculty. A disco dance followed the banquet. Many other events such as a picnic, "sundae" party, and campus frolics added to the already busy schedule.

By the time classes started the students were well oriented to be a part of Lambuth College.

Kaleidoscope

A Medieval/Madrigal Feaste, December 3-6, 1980

hail and wolcum all!

Come back with us to Medieval England! Let your fancy carry you to somewhere between Camelot and Henry VIII. We will lift our glasses together in Wassail (good health) Toasts to the season and to us all!

Trumpet fanfares will continue the Merrie Olde England tradition as they announce changes throughout the Feaste . . . Processional, Wassail, The Boards Head, The Flaming Pudding.

Madrigal Feasts invariably included singing and other musical enterteynment. So tonight we will turn back the pages of time to a joyous, colorful Yuletyde Wolcum!

. . . Such was the invitation extended to the members of the college and the community (by Kaleidoscope) to join the merriment of their Medieval Madrigal Feaste.

Candlelight Service

Students basked in the glow of candlelight as they sat quietly awaiting the beginning of the annual Candlelight Service. The service is a tribute by students and faculty members to the birth of the baby Jesus. The Brass Choir, headed by Mr. Dick Brown, began the Service by playing traditional Christmas Carols from the Chapel tower, as the Lambuth College Choirs gathered in the back of the Chapel to begin "A Festival of Seven Lessons and Carols Commemorating Christmas."

This traditional Candlelight Service was adapted from a Service introduced at Kings College, Cambridge, England in the fourteenth century. It was traditionally a Candlelight Christmas Eve Service, using both Old and New Testaments and music to tell the gospel story, culminating in the birth of Jesus Christ. Originally, the readings were in Latin. Variations in the Service were made in the eighteenth century, with the introduction of an English Text of the Bible.

In 1962, an adaptation of this original Candlelight Service was introduced on the Lambuth Campus, on the Sunday eve before the closing of school for the Christmas holidays. This inspirational Service has continued uninterrupted since that time.

This year, Dr. Jo Fleming directed the Lambuth College Choir and Concert Choir with Virginia Jones, Laura Schubert, and Tucker Turner as soloists. Mr. Deward Rahm accompanied the Choirs on the organ. Also adding tremendously to the evening was the Chapel setting, arranged by Mr. Larry Ray, Mrs. Joanna Ross, and student committees from the Campus Congregation.

Harry Wesley Gilmer-Fourteenth President of Lambuth College

Harry Wesley Gilmer was elected fourteenth president of Lambuth College on February 5, 1980, and assumed the duties of that office on June 1, 1980. He has served as a campus minister and has been associated with United Methodist institutions of higher learning as a professor, a department chairman, associate dean and dean of faculty.

Born April 11, 1937, in Bristol, Virginia-Tennessee, Dr. Gilmer attended primary and secondary schools there, graduating as valedictorian of Bristol, Tennessee High School in 1955. He is the son of John A. Gilmer, Jr., a native of Russell County, Virginia, and Ella Porter Gilmer, a native of Lynchburg, Virginia. Both parents reside in Bristol.

Dr. Gilmer graduated from Emory and Henry College in 1959 with a B.A. cum laude with majors in English and history. His B.D. degree was completed at Candler School of Theology of Emory University in 1963 with concentration in teaching and research. In 1969, he was awarded the Ph.D. from Emory University, where he was a member of the International Society of Theta Phi religion honor society. Dr. Gilmer's graduate studies were in the area of biblical research and near eastern history and religion. While at Emory, he was awarded a National Defense Fellowship and a Dempster Fellowship. His doctoral dissertation was later published in 1975 under the title The If-You Form in Israelite Law.

In 1965, Dr. Gilmer assumed teaching responsibilities at Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, where he gave leadership to curricular reform. Later he was appointed chairman of the Department of Religion and Philosophy and Bradley Professor of Religion. In 1974, he became Associate Dean of the College and held that post until his appointment in 1977 as Dean of the Faculty and Professor of Religion at Millsaps College, a sister Methodist college in Jackson, Mississippi.

Throughout his professional career, Dr. Gilmer has been active in community and civic affairs. He served on the Board of Directors of the Macon Community Concert Association, the Boards of the Macon Urban Ministry, and Volunteer Macon. He was President of the Macon Council for the Experiment in International Living 1971-73 and was active in the Macon Council on World Affairs. Presently he is a member of the Jackson Rotary Club and is participating in Leadership Jackson.

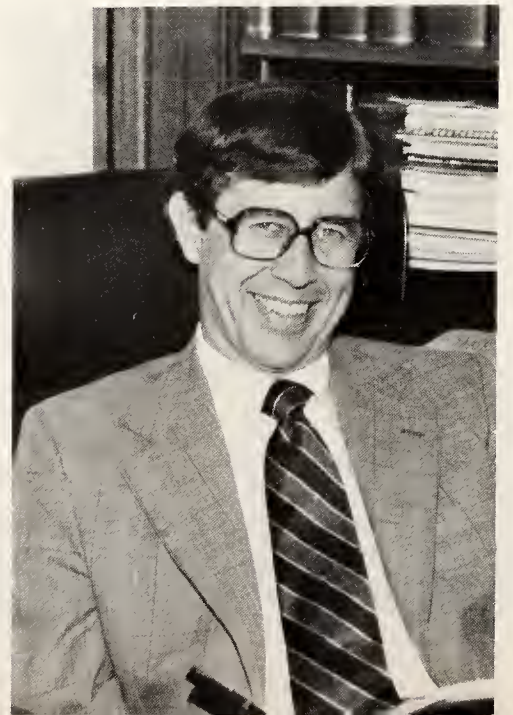

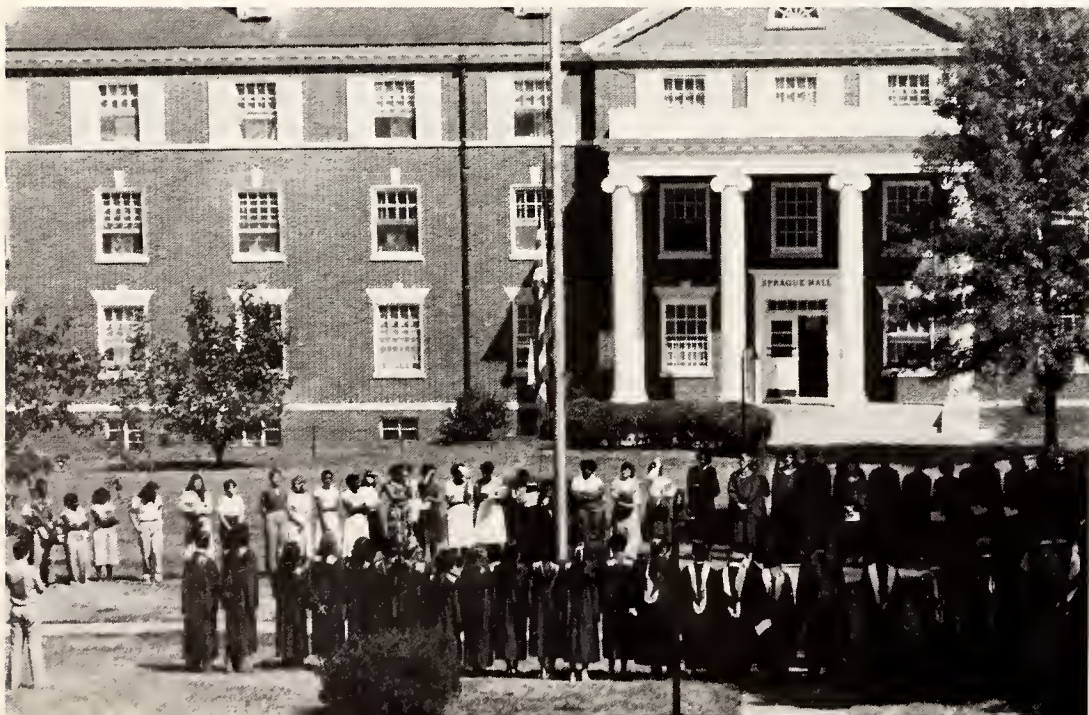

Lambuth's fourteenth president is married to the former Jackie Lynne Herron, also a native of Bristol. Mrs. Gilmer is the daughter of the late Mack C. Herron and Evelyn L. Herron of Bristol, Tennessee. She received her undergraduate education from Virginia Intermont College and Wesleyan College where she obtained the A.B. degree magna cum laude with a major in early childhood education. The Gilmers have two daughters, Jennifer Lynne, who is a student at Mississippi State University, and Kelley Elizabeth, a student at Tigrett Junior High School. The Gilmer family has been active in the Experiment in International Living and is committed to the furtherance of international understanding through such programs.

Committed to the liberal arts tradition and to the Christian college, Dr. Gilmer has said that "the fundamental justification of the small church-related, liberal arts college is its unique possibility for furthering the growth of the individual student toward intellectual, religious and personal maturity."

Students Introduced To Greek Life

Soon after the freshmen arrived on campus, all Greek organizations began preparing for that great annual event known as "Formal Rush". Although "Formal Rush" entailed a hectic week for all involved, it provided students interested in Greek life an opportunity to become better acquainted with sorority and fraternity life.

The week began with a casual gathering of Greeks and rushees to introduce the rushees to the four sororities and three fraternities on campus. For the sororities, the week's events began with a fashion show sponsored by Kisber's followed by a tea, where the girls registered for rush and asked questions of each sorority representative.

As the week progressed, a more in-depth view of the Greeks was seen by the rushees during parties and presentations given by sororities and fraternities. Although rushees saw cool, polished sophisticates each time they attended an ice water party, a theme party, preference party, or any other rush activity, behind the scenes members became frazzled as each crop of party-goers came.

The schedule of events for the sororities and fraternities was basically the same, although their parties were on different days. The rushees were divided into smaller groups so it would be easier for the members of the sororities and fraternities to get to know each individual. These groups were then assigned times to visit each group. For the girls, a sorority must be cut after each party until finally she goes only to two preference parties. Finally, bids into membership were extended to those who the members felt would fit into their organization. For those who accepted their bids, it was the beginning of their pledgework and also their start in Greek Life.

Being established at Lambuth College on October 5, 1957, The Gamma Iota Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta is distinguished as the oldest sorority on campus. Beginning our twenty-third year at Lambuth, Alpha Xi tripled the size of the sorority from the previous year. Other fall activities included pledge swaps, pledge and active pranks, a pumpkin-carving contest, participation in All-Sing, Sigma Kapers, Christmas, and homecoming.

The Spring semester brought new life to all members, as new actives were initiated and preparations for the highlight of the semester, the Blue and Gold Ball were made. Other activities included picnics, softball, and a birthday party for our mascot, Al Fuz-zie.

Although sisters enjoyed sorority activities, they also represented the chapter in various campus activities, including S.G.A., A.S.I.D., theater productions, campus congregation, honorary fraternities, as well as the yearbook staff.

Kappa Nu Chapter of Phi Mu Fraternity began its twelfth year at Lambuth College with an outstanding rush in both fall and spring. Not only were fourteen young ladies initiated in February, but five more girls were pledged in March.

Because of their many campus activities, such as participation in Sigma Kapers and placing first in Greek All-Sing for the second year, as well as their outstanding scholarship and chapter activities, the ladies of Kappa Nu were proud to be named as Chapter of the Quarter among all other chapters in the nation for the fall 1980 quarter.

Phi Mu, along with the gentlemen of Sigma Phi Epsilon, is also proud to sponsor a Halloween party for the boys of Youthtown; to give a Homecoming Tea for the basketball players, coaching staff, and cheerleaders; and to support their national philanthropy, Project HOPE.

Because of the great diversity among its members, Phi Mu enjoyed an active year in all phases of campus life.

The ladies of Sigma Kappa enjoyed a great 1980-81 year. They enjoyed participating in various campus activities, such as: Greek All-Sing, intramural sports, and sponsoring Sigma Kapers. This school year has seen the recognition of many outstanding Sigma Kappa members. Sigma Kappas have not only been numbered among members of the Homecoming and Miss Lambuth courts, but were also chosen to Who's Who. In February, fifteen pledges, of whom they were very proud, were initiated. All-in-all, it was a really great year for Sigma Kappa!

On December 21, 1865, four men met on the campus of Washington College (now Washington and Lee University) in Lexington, Virginia, seeking to perpetuate the ideals of Christian virtue as exemplified in the life of the president of the college, Robert Edward Lee, the spiritual founder of what is today known as the Kappa Alpha Order.

Kappa Alpha Order was founded in an atmosphere of high idealism through the ideas and feelings of these four men-determined to preserve the cherished precepts of chivalry and honor. These men gave to American youth an organization unexcelled in Leadership, Honor, and Brotherhood, and for over 100 years now, it has remained unchanged in its dedication to the changeless principles upon which it was founded.

Throughout this year, the Order has participated in many campus activities, namely, Sigma Kapers, numerous pledge swaps, intramurals, and placing first in this year's All-Sing held on Parents' Weekend.

Respectfully submitted,

Kappa Sigma traces its beginning back to over 400 years ago in Balogna, Italy, where the great philosopher and teacher, Manuel Chrisolora, originated the society for the mutual protection and edification of his students. The American founding of Kappa Sigma occurred on December 10, 1869, at the University of Virginia. Five men, forever to be known as the "Five Friends and Brothers," met together on that date to crystallize their ideals and found the society which is today the international Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Today, over 100 years since its American founding, Kappa Sigma has over 170 chapters and colonies in all fifty states, making the organization one of the five largest fraternities in the world. Kappa Sigma strives to instill the qualities of scholarship, leadership, and brotherhood in all its members, and these noble efforts are very visible in the accomplishments of the Epsilon-Psi Chapter of Lambuth College. Epsilon-Psi produces leaders in every aspect of campus life academics, student government, and athletics. Kappa Sigmas are hard workers, as evidenced by their endless fund raising efforts and service projects.

Though the brothers of Epsilon-Psi can boast of many individual and group accomplishments, these alone do not assure a good fraternity. Only brotherhood can make that assurance, and the brothers of Epsilon-Psi Chapter of Kappa Sigma, drawn together by mutual ideas, congenial spirits, and respect for one another, have truly achieved that elusive and infinitely rewarding bond called brotherhood.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

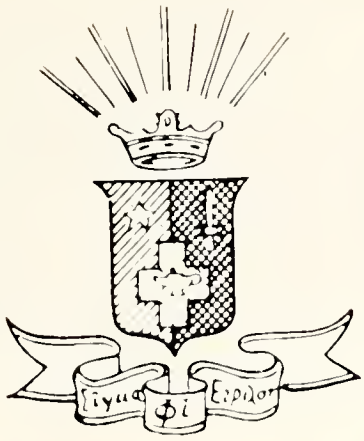

Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity was founded at Richmond College, Richmond, Virginia, on November 1, 1901. What was to become Tennessee Zeta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon at Lambuth College began as Roman Society Local No. 750, in the fall of 1968. In March of 1969 this group of men organized a local fraternity known as Beta Chi. A year later Beta Chi became a colony of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, and Tennessee Zeta Chapter was formally installed on October 16, 1971.

Today Sig Eps are active in nearly every facet of campus life at Lambuth. Sig Eps presently serve in student government, in the Campus Congregation, as orientation counselors, dorm counselors, on the editorial boards of campus publications, and in varsity sports. Sigma Phi Epsilon is proud of the fact that although it is the youngest fraternity on campus, it has maintained its status as the largest fraternity on campus for the past four years. During fall rush 1980, Sig Ep received eleven new pledges.

Activities for the year include the annual Founders' Day Banquet, at which Brother Randy Pressgrove was the guest speaker, a pizza party at the house with the AOPis, assisting Phi Mu with the Halloween party at Youthtown, a Golden Hearts party for the new initiates at "Mom" Jerstad's, and the spring formal, which was held in Memphis at the Rivermont. At the 1981 Regional Leadership Academy held in Knoxville, Tennessee, Zeta was awarded the Academic Trophy for its outstanding 3.0 overall grade-point average, and Mark Donahoe was presented the J. Edward Zollinger Outstanding Senior Award for his accomplishments both in the chapter and in the college community. Overall, it was a very successful year for Sig Ep.

Greek All-Sing 1980

Greek All-Sing 1980 was held in November in conjunction with Parents' Weekend. For several weeks prior to the event, each sorority and fraternity met for rehearsals, sometimes as many as five evenings during the week, occasionally squeezing in an extra rehearsal in the mornings.

The program began with the Alpha Omicron PIs, singing "Holiday for Strings," "Lift Thine Eyes Unto the Mountains," and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Next came the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon, performing "Scarborough Fair," "Jump Down, Turn Around!" and "Drinking Song." Following the Sig Eps were the Alpha Xi Deltas. Their selections were "That's Entertainment," "Rainbow Connection," "Get Happy," and "New York, New York." The last group, Kappa Alpha Order, performed a medley of Broadway songs for male choruses. After intermission, the Phi Mus opened the show with selections from "The King and I," "The Rose," and "Psalm Twenty-Three." Next the Sigma Kappas performed, singing "The Love of God," "Can't Smile Without You," and "All My Trials." This entertaining evening was wrapped up with a Surprise Medley from the Kappa Sigmas. They humorously presented several television theme songs from many old favorites. Serving as emcee was Dr. Rusty McIntire and providing entertainment was Keith Phelps.

When the ballots were cast, second place awards went to Sigma Kappa sorority and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. The first place winners of the 1980 Greek All-Sing were Phi Mu and Kappa Alpha. All participating groups were winners at heart because of the fun shared and the contributions made.

Proceeds of the evening were given to the Developmental Disabilities Center in Jackson and were to be used to aid in the effort of training and teaching the mentally and physically handicapped.

Dean Whybrew Retires

Dr. Walter H. Whybrew, executive vice-president and dean of the college, retired in August, 1981, after 24 years at Lambuth. "I came to Lambuth with the idea of staying about 5 years. I guess it took me 24 years to do what I planned to do in five," he remarked with a smile. The dean, with his usual dry humor, is just a bit too modest. His accomplishments over the years are innumerable. Upon his arrival at Lambuth in 1957, the college had only 300 students and offered only one degree. Through the years, Dean Whybrew worked to expand and improve the academic curriculum. Soon after his arrival, the addition of a Bachelor of Science degree helped to further develop the entire educational program. Today the college offers 4 degrees in over 75 majors, and the enrollment exceeds 750. In addition, he worked closely with the music department after coming to Lambuth. He organized and directed the first Lambuth College band for 3 years until a full-time director could be added to the staff. He was previously chairman of the music department at Hartwick College in Oneonta, N.Y. He initiated the summer sessions program at Lambuth and served as director for 6 years. Since coming to Lambuth, Dr. Whybrew has served as registrar, Dean of admissions, academic dean and executive vice president.

Born in Romford, England, he moved to Lockport, N.Y., at the age of eight. He pursued his undergraduate studies at Houghton College in N.Y., receiving his master's degree and a doctorate in administrative and higher education from the University of Pennsylvania. He is a member of the Southern and American Conferences of Academic Deans and the Tennessee College Association. He is also a member of Phi Mu Alpha national music fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega national drama fraternity, and member and past advisor for Alpha Sigma Phi national social fraternity. He is an active member of the Jackson Rotary Club and First United Methodist Church. He was listed as an "Outstanding Educator in America."

He and his wife, Evelyn, have 4 children. (3 Lambuth grads) and 7 grandchildren. Mrs. Whybrew is an associate professor and director of the Learning Enrichment Center.

Dean Whybrew is truly a man with many great qualities! Thank you, Dean, for your love and service.

Coulters' Move Is "Aggie-vating!"

Frank C. Coulter joined the Lambuth faculty in 1970. During the next 11 years he served tirelessly as a dedicated classroom teacher and as the enthusiastic director of Kaleidoscope, the popular singing group. This same vigor sparked his implementation of the Orff-Kodaly method of teaching music and of Lambuth's increasingly popular Medieval-Madrigal Feaste, staged each year to mark the beginning of the Holiday season. Coulter carefully researched the music and costumes (made by Elizabeth Coulter and Wilma McCague, former L.C. teacher) to present an authentic medieval feeling during the four night annual event.

The popular assistant professor of music was educated at Illinois Wesleyan University (Bachelor of Music degree) and at Columbia Teachers' College (Master of Arts in Music Education). He did further graduate work at Northwestern Illinois University, Illinois State University, and North Texas State University.

Elizabeth Lane Coulter came to Lambuth in 1973 as Assistant in the Learning Enrichment Center after many years of service as an elementary school teacher in Texas. Mrs. Coulter's thorough knowledge of the materials in the Center and her outstanding teaching abilities made her a key to the smooth day-to-day functioning of the Learning lab. She diligently wrote evaluations of the tutors' lesson plans, made suggestions about teaching techniques, and worked personally with tutors, tutees, and parents to help assure the success of the individual programs. Furthermore, her organization, her systematic approach, and her patience were excellent models for those students preparing to be teachers themselves.

This energetic couple have returned to their hometown, College Station, Texas, where, in the midst of unpacking boxes, they are remodeling a home and becoming immersed in the life of that college town. Besides becoming reacquainted with many College Station friends, the Coulters have been busy attending art shows (one of them included several works by their son Lane Coulter), gardening, and traveling to Santa Fe, New Mexico, where they attended the opera, several concerts, and absorbed the atmosphere of that lovely city.

Frank and Elizabeth are now anxiously awaiting the April arrival of their first grandchild, and they speak enthusiastically about the joys of "retirement"-though they hardly seem to have retired from anything!

No doubt that same vitality, generosity, and enthusiasm for people and for learning that made them so dear to us at Lambuth are being shared with some very fortunate Texans! But for those of us they left behind, their move to College Station, Texas, is downright "Aggie-vating!"

Playing Doctor And Nurse

Dr. Clinton C. Daniels, Professor of Economics and Chairman of the Department of Business Administration from 1979-1981, resigned this spring to return to Colorado. Dr. Daniels also served as the Director of the the Center for the Study of American Business.

He received his Bachelor of Arts from Colorado College, a Master of Arts from the University of Southern California, and a Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Florida.

Nancy Daniels, who served as College Nurse from 1979-1981, looks forward to the family's return to their native state. Nurse Daniels received her R.N. degree from California Lutheran Hospital.

The Lambuth community wishes them happiness in their new endeavors.

Mrs. Travis Retires

Mrs. Allie Travis, bookstore manager, retired this year after 22 years of service at the college. Mrs. Travis began working for Lambuth in 1959.

Originally from Tiptonville, Tennessee, she worked as the Deputy County Court Clerk for that county before her marriage. She and her family later lived in East Tennessee, and were thrilled when her husband's transfer brought them back to West Tennessee. Mrs. Travis stayed at home with her two children, Joy and Charles, Jr. (Buddy) for many years, but began to look for a job when they left for college.

She was anonymously recommended for the position at Lambuth and interviewed with the business manager and Dr. Gobbell, president of the college at that time. She assured them that she had no experience and was not qualified for the manager's job. However, after much persuasion by the college staff, she agreed to try. The bookstore and student center were then housed in an old army barracks. Mrs. Travis kept the bookstore open all day, selling books, sandwiches, candy, miscellaneous supplies, and stamps. In the evening, Wednesday through Saturday nights, she opened the center for students' use.

"We had no air conditioning, and I was responsible for everything," said Mrs. Travis. "It was really different when we moved into the new Student Union building in 1965." She really enjoyed those first six years, when she became known as "Mom" Travis. Students would gather at the center to discuss their problems with her and share their joys! Mrs. Travis was nicknamed "Mom" by the members of Kappa Sigma fraternity. The young men asked her to serve as their Honorary housemother shortly after her arrival on Lambuth's campus. She still serves as housemother for the group.

For the past nine years, Mrs. Travis has also held the position of College Union hostess. She supervises all functions held in the Union building to insure that all college guests are satisfied. She continues to serve in this capacity on a part-time basis following her retirement. She also works part-time for Slater Food Services.

"Lambuth has always been a very important part of my life, even more so after my husband died," said Mrs. Travis. "I love all the students-I have never found one I did not like. Lambuth-the students, faculty, and staff-keep me going."

Farewell To Familiar Faces

Dianne Fields, Director of Alumni and College Relations, resigned her position, effective April 30, to go into business for herself. Ms. Fields attended Lambuth College and the University of Oklahoma and graduated from Memphis State University. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Education.

This spring Isinell Newbill, lecturer in math, retired from the Lambuth faculty after sixteen years of service. Currently she is helping daughter Pam with a catering service which they operate out of their home. In addition, she is enjoying her three grandchildren-five year old Michael (Pam's son), three year old Jay, and one year old Beth (Pat's children). Mrs. Newbill is also anxiously awaiting the October arrival of Pat's third child.

While at Lambuth Mrs. Newbill was cheer-leading sponsor for two years and was secretary and vice president of Omicron Phi Tau honor society. She taught Algebra-Trigonometry, Methods and Materials of Teaching High School Math, and Principles of Math.

All of her former students and colleagues wish her much happiness in her new activities.

Dr. Coleman, Lambuth History Professor, Dies

Dr. B.R. Coleman played an important role in obtaining the Dunlap-Williamson Log Cabin Museum on campus during the 1976 Bicentennial celebration.

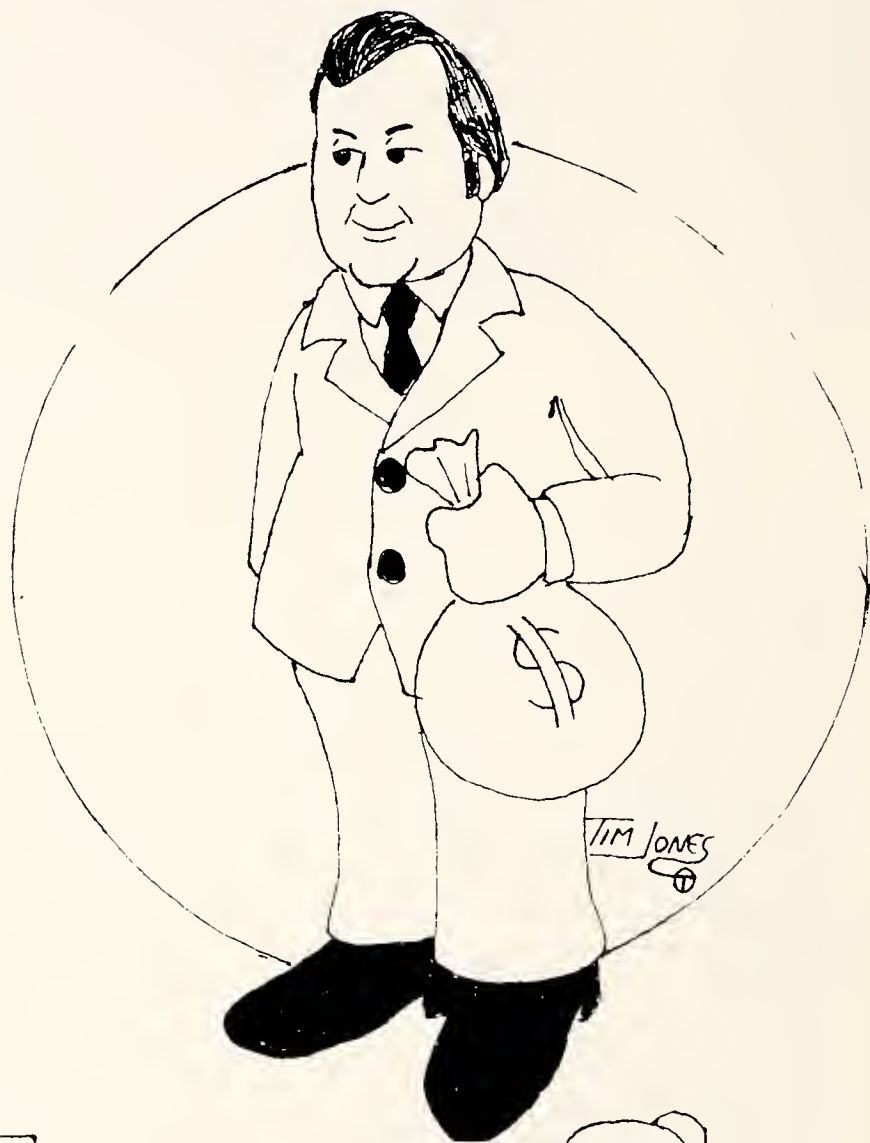

The opening of an art exhibit by Mrs. Doris Pirtle Coleman in the Spring of 1981. Her works were exhibited in Jones Hall, including the portrait of Dr. B.R. Coleman.

Dr. B.R. Coleman, fifty-three year old associate professor of history, died February 2, 1981. After suffering heart attacks and undergoing open-heart surgery the previous year, Dr. Coleman succumbed to his ill health. His death has been a loss to the entire Lambuth community, not only because of his excellence in teaching a variety of history courses during his fourteen years on the faculty but also because of his warm personality, which was apparent even to those who knew him only slightly. Never at a loss for an anecdote or a joke, Dr. Coleman will probably be best remembered for his fantastic sense of humor, his wry smile, and the twinkle that was always in his eyes. In addition to these contributions, Dr. Coleman was a "moving force" in obtaining and reconstructing the Dunlap-Williamson Log Cabin Museum, a standing reminder of the 1976 Bicentennial celebration.

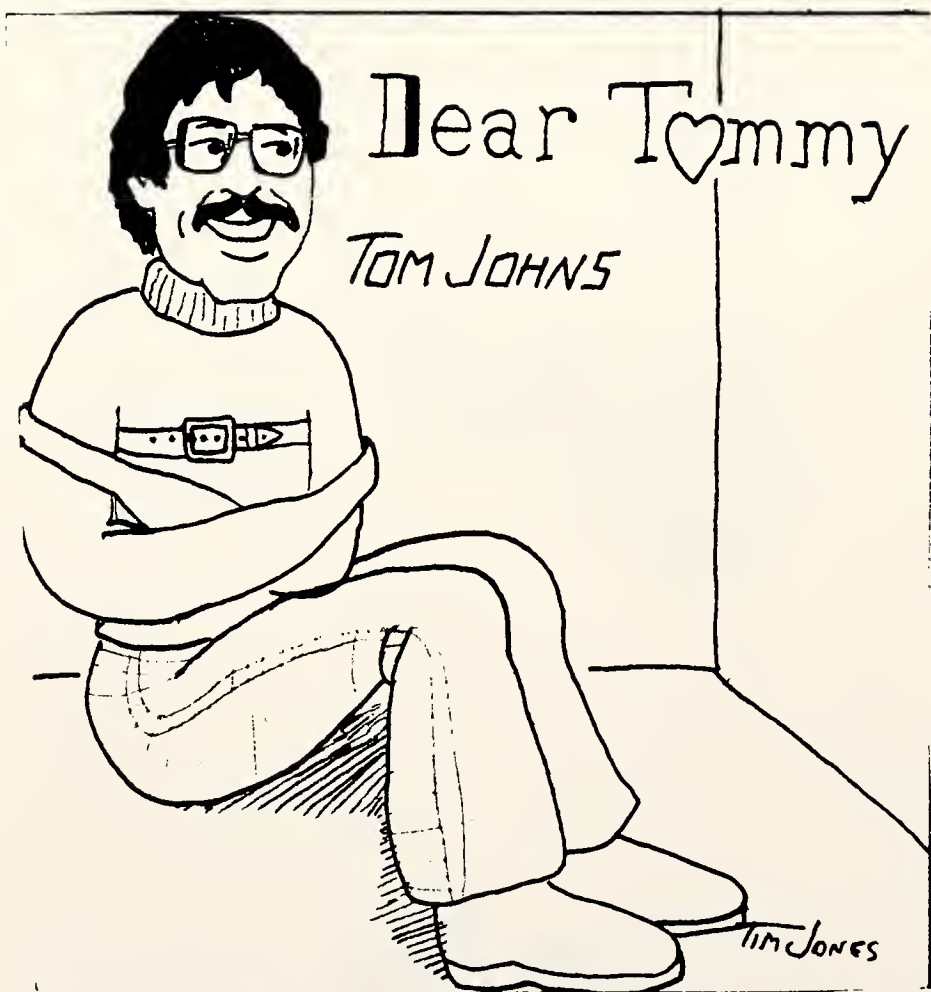

Dr. Coleman's association with Lambuth also enabled many to come to know his talented wife, artist Doris Pirtle Coleman, and his daughter, Marcia Coleman Doege, Lambuth graduate, actress, and writer. In addition to his wife and daughter, Dr. Coleman is survived by his mother, Mrs. Vada Coleman and by eight brothers and sisters.

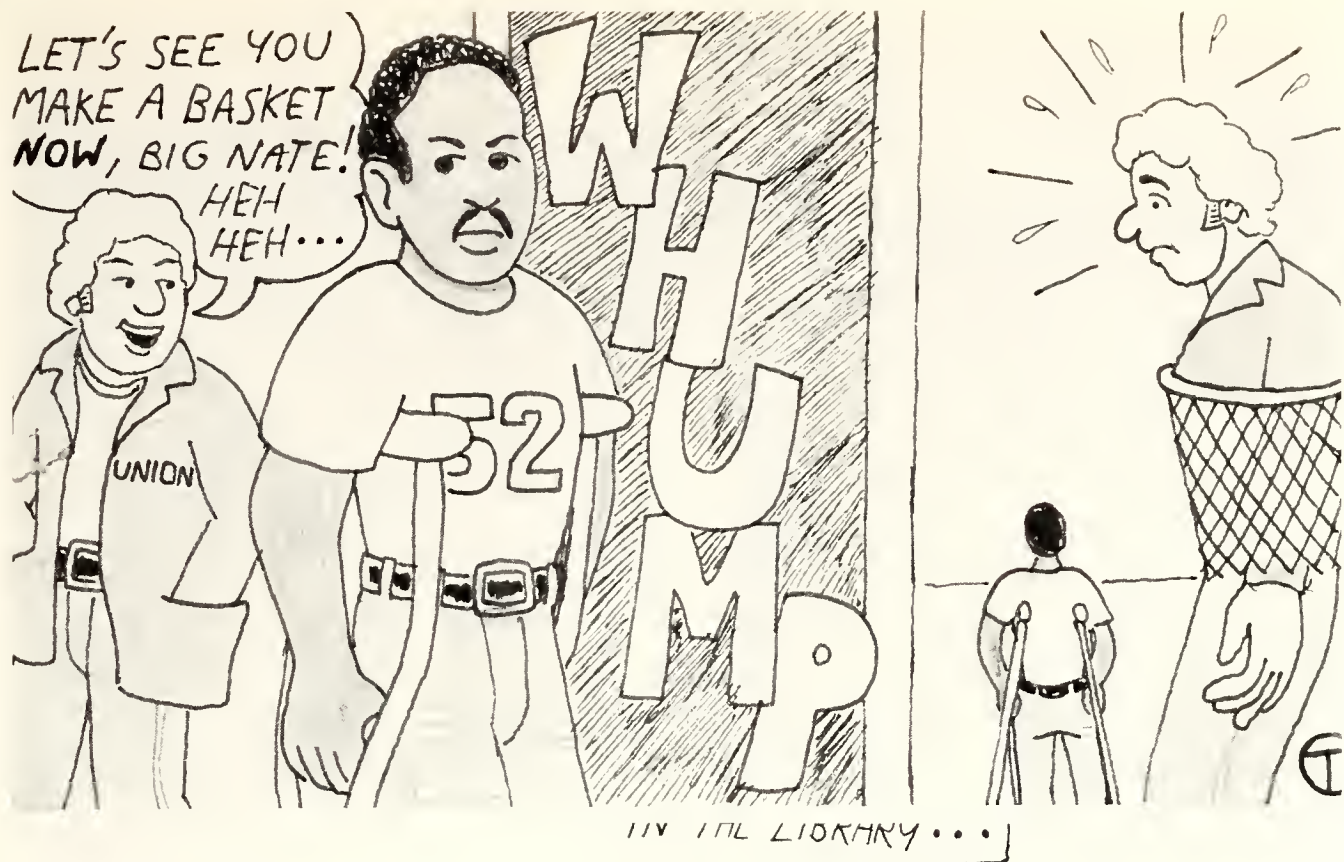

His passing has left a void in the Lambuth community, but his humor and his love will always be in our hearts, and those of us who knew him well will always feel a special longing for his companionship whenever we hear a new joke we know he would enjoy sharing. B.R., our lives are richer for having known you!

The Campus Congregation is the Body of Christ at work on the Lambuth Campus. We seek to minister to the campus and beyond the campus through worship, study, service, and fellowship. Pictured here, among the many activities of the Campus Congregation this year, are a chili supper at the RAC (the Religious Activities Center), a skit at Freshman Orientation, and devotional period around a bonfire.

FOCUS is a three-day period in which the search light of the gospel of Christ is focused on a burning issue or special concern. This year's FOCUS was on ministering to the sad and the lonely through a clown ministry.

One may ask why The Lantern is so late in coming out this year . . . well, let me assure you that it is not an easy job putting a yearbook together single-handedly. For example, instead of being able to turn to fellow students for help during the past few months, I have had to depend on an Alum and a student from an East Tennessee college to do such things as typing, writing copy, and choosing pictures! I have also had to ask students who were not even on the Yearbook Staff to take pictures as well as a professional photographer in Jackson, this being one of the reasons for the blank pages in the back of the book.

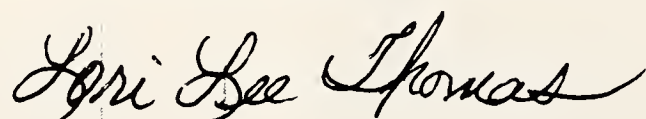

Furthermore, in response to the March 4th S.G.A. "Save the Yearbook" meeting, it now seems that there were many "Stars" and not enough "Stage-hands" as volunteers. As a result, The Lantern-1981- was produced by the efforts of a few. This is not to place blame on deserters or to apologize for this year's book; the results of the work that has been done are as adequate as could have been expected under the circumstances. Tis a shame that this publication is not as fine as the potential set forth in the beginning.

I do appreciate those few students who devoted hours of their time during the last two hectic months of the school year. Since I did not obtain the position of Editor until the end of March, they were of great help. I would also like to thank Mrs. Hudacek and Mrs. Givens for the work they have done, and especially for the time they have spent away from their families for the benefit of The Lantern.

I sincerely believe that the Lambuth Faculty and Staff should seriously examine the system by which The Lantern is presently being published. After all of the tragedies our book has suffered during this past year, I feel that it is very important that changes be made in order for The Lantern to survive.

In addition, the student body MUST become more involved in the yearbook. The Lantern is a STUDENT PUBLICATION and without student involvement, it will become extinct. The Yearbook Staff must consist of more than the Editor and a handful of his or her friends. If there are not more student members on The Lantern Staff in the future, this publication could possibly be the last Lambuth College Yearbook.

Kirk Smith's Photos

Without the help of Kirk Smith this year's Yearbook would be a great loss. There would have been many more "blank" pages without his photographs. His work has added special interest and is greatly appreciated. Kirk is to be commended for his photography, and has won various awards locally as well as in other areas. Kirk graduated in the summer of 1981, and we would like to wish him the best of luck in pursuing his Art Career. Thank You, Kirk!!!

Homecoming

Class Officers-1980-1981

This year's Freshman class has had a busy, fun-filled year. As soon as Orientation was over, they held an exciting campaign and election of class officers. When Homecoming came around, the Freshman class ran away with first place in the float contest, with the theme "Devo the Dragons", and walked off with third place in the banner contest. When not working together as a whole class, many individuals gained recognition around campus in a variety of ways. The outstanding dramatists held leading parts in the plays presented by the Drama Department; the enthusiastic ones were selected as cheerleaders; the musically talented gained recognition in the music department; the beautiful representatives were in the Miss Lambuth contest; and the Greeks found their way into the various Sororities and Fraternities during rush. These enthusiastic Freshman are anxiously looking forward to three more marvelous years at the Big L!

In keeping with the spirit of the average Lambuth College student, the juniors at Lambuth upheld the attitude that apathy is the best policy. Therefore, they took absolutely no action on anything, whatsoever. In fact, many elected abstention from the majority of their classes. However, all was not lost. The juniors can at least boast of their longevity: after all, they have now survived three years at Lambuth College.

The Senior class joins me in expressing their appreciation and high regard for Dr. Gilmer and in wishing him all the best in the future . . . We are proud to be the first class graduating under him! The years have flown by too quickly and soon we will all be going our separate ways, but each of us will take with us many special memories made in these years at Lambuth. Together, we have laughed and cried, won and lost, passed and failed, reaped rewards as well as reprimands . . . and through it all, we have grown and learned. This growth has helped make us who we are . . . the people we'll be even after we leave . . . for graduation is not an ending, but a bittersweet beginning. A few words of wisdom for the future are found in Proverbs 3:21: "My son, keep sound wisdom and discretion; let them not escape from your sight, and they will be life for your soul and adornment for your neck. Then you will walk on your way securely and your foot will not stumble."

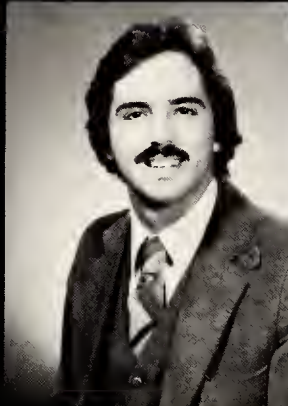

Best of Luck to all!!!

Gradually over the past few years student apathy toward producing THE LANTERN has grown. My statement should not be misinterpreted to mean that students do not want a yearbook. However, no one seems to want one enough to WORK toward the goal of publishing a book about which everyone related to the Lambuth community can be proud.

In capsule version I cite the following as representative examples of this lack of interest that I have seen in the four very long years I have served on the Editorial Board:

- a business manager who sold a few ads one summer, but decided that he and the ad money wouldn't return to school that fall

- another business manager who decided in mid-summer not to be the business manager anymore, but who did not bother to tell anyone about his decision.

- a year when only ONE student responded to the 18 posters on campus and the article in the newspaper by applying for the position of editor. NO ONE applied to be business manager. (The editor receives a $400 stipend; the business manager receives 15% of the ad sales.)

- more than one year when students who did apply to be editor but who weren't selected didn't bother to gain experience or share talents by working on the staff

- last year when 40+ students signed up for the staff at registration, but somehow the book was primarily put together by editor Tony Stephens and me (with some sporadic help from Tony's Sig Ep brothers) and with typing by Janice Bowman, Karen Bowman, and Harvette Johnson and JoAnn Williamson

- years when some student members of the editorial board Never once came to a meeting, despite my personal written invitations and reminders

- twice-weekly yearbook staff meetings when Tony Stephens and I were the only attendants last year, and meetings this year with a skeleton crew consisting of Judy French, Bridgette McCamey, Lori Thomas, Sandra Givens, and me

- this year when editor Gary Schumacher abdicated his position in mid-school year, leaving many things started, but few completed, co-editors Lori Thomas and Susan Crews assumed the extremely difficult task of picking up the pieces. Lori wound up picking them up alone.

- Student photographers who did not meet deadlines. (What would we have done without Kirk Smith to fill in the void??)

- a professional photographer, Terry Bivens, who still hasn't given us pictures ordered months ago, despite dozens of phone calls and a letter I personally delivered to his home.

- college students who responded to our pleas for help, but who were too interested in socializing to alphabetize class photographs correctly. Consequently, most photos had 8-10 stickers on the back, and much time wasted.

Even after the SGA "Save the Yearbook" meeting and posters all over campus publicizing our plight and our tight schedule, the Sigma Phi Epsilons put us even further behind schedule by submitting an obscene group picture. In a retake of this group, one member chose to indicate his IQ by displaying an internationally recognized obscene gesture. (Some of you may find my citing of these two examples somewhat shocking, but those who are upset with the lateness and poor quality of this book need to be aware of these kinds of impediments that we kept running into, even after the campus was aware that the yearbook was in great difficulty.)

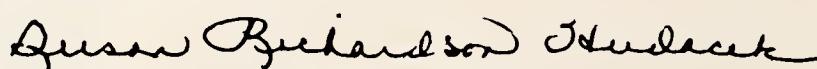

The yearbook is chartered as a STUDENT publication. Membership on the staff has been open to all students, training sessions have been held with representatives from our excellent publishing company, and we truly wanted to follow last year's theme: "Make the Yearbook YOUR book!" But perhaps we should have taken it as an omen when the student author of that slogan reneged on his commitments. Our most pervasive problems have been: (1) students who sign up, but don't show up and (2) students who are not self-starters and who just quit instead of fulfilling commitments.

A college yearbook is an expensive publication in terms of both money and time. And it's proven expensive in terms of aggravation because if one piece of the puzzle is missing, the work can't be sent to the plant. Missed deadlines cost money. For example, under the terms of this year's contract, we were entitled to 12 pages of full color and 8 pages of spot color. As many of you know, color pictures are very expensive, yet we encumbered the expense of taking, developing, and printing many really wonderful color shots. Then, WHY, you are no doubt wondering, is this a black and white book? The color deadlines were missed because students did not fulfill responsibilities they freely undertook.

Lambuth does need a yearbook! Not only does it serve as a memory book of your college years, but it serves four other vital functions: An annual historical record of Lambuth College; a recruiting, publicity, and public relations tool; a directory of the Lambuth community; and an educational tool. This last function should be capitalized upon, not neglected by students and faculty! Working with this expensive publication (approximately $10,000), students can gain valuable "hands-on" experience in organizing, planning, laying-out, photographing, budgeting, marketing, writing, and other areas. In a time when students are wanting experience, I am amazed that more don't seek work on the college yearbook staff. The recommendation of the Editorial Board is that the project be formalized into a credit course and perhaps even incorporated into a journalism major or minor. It could also provide some excellent interdepartmental team teaching opportunities (business, art, English, etc.)

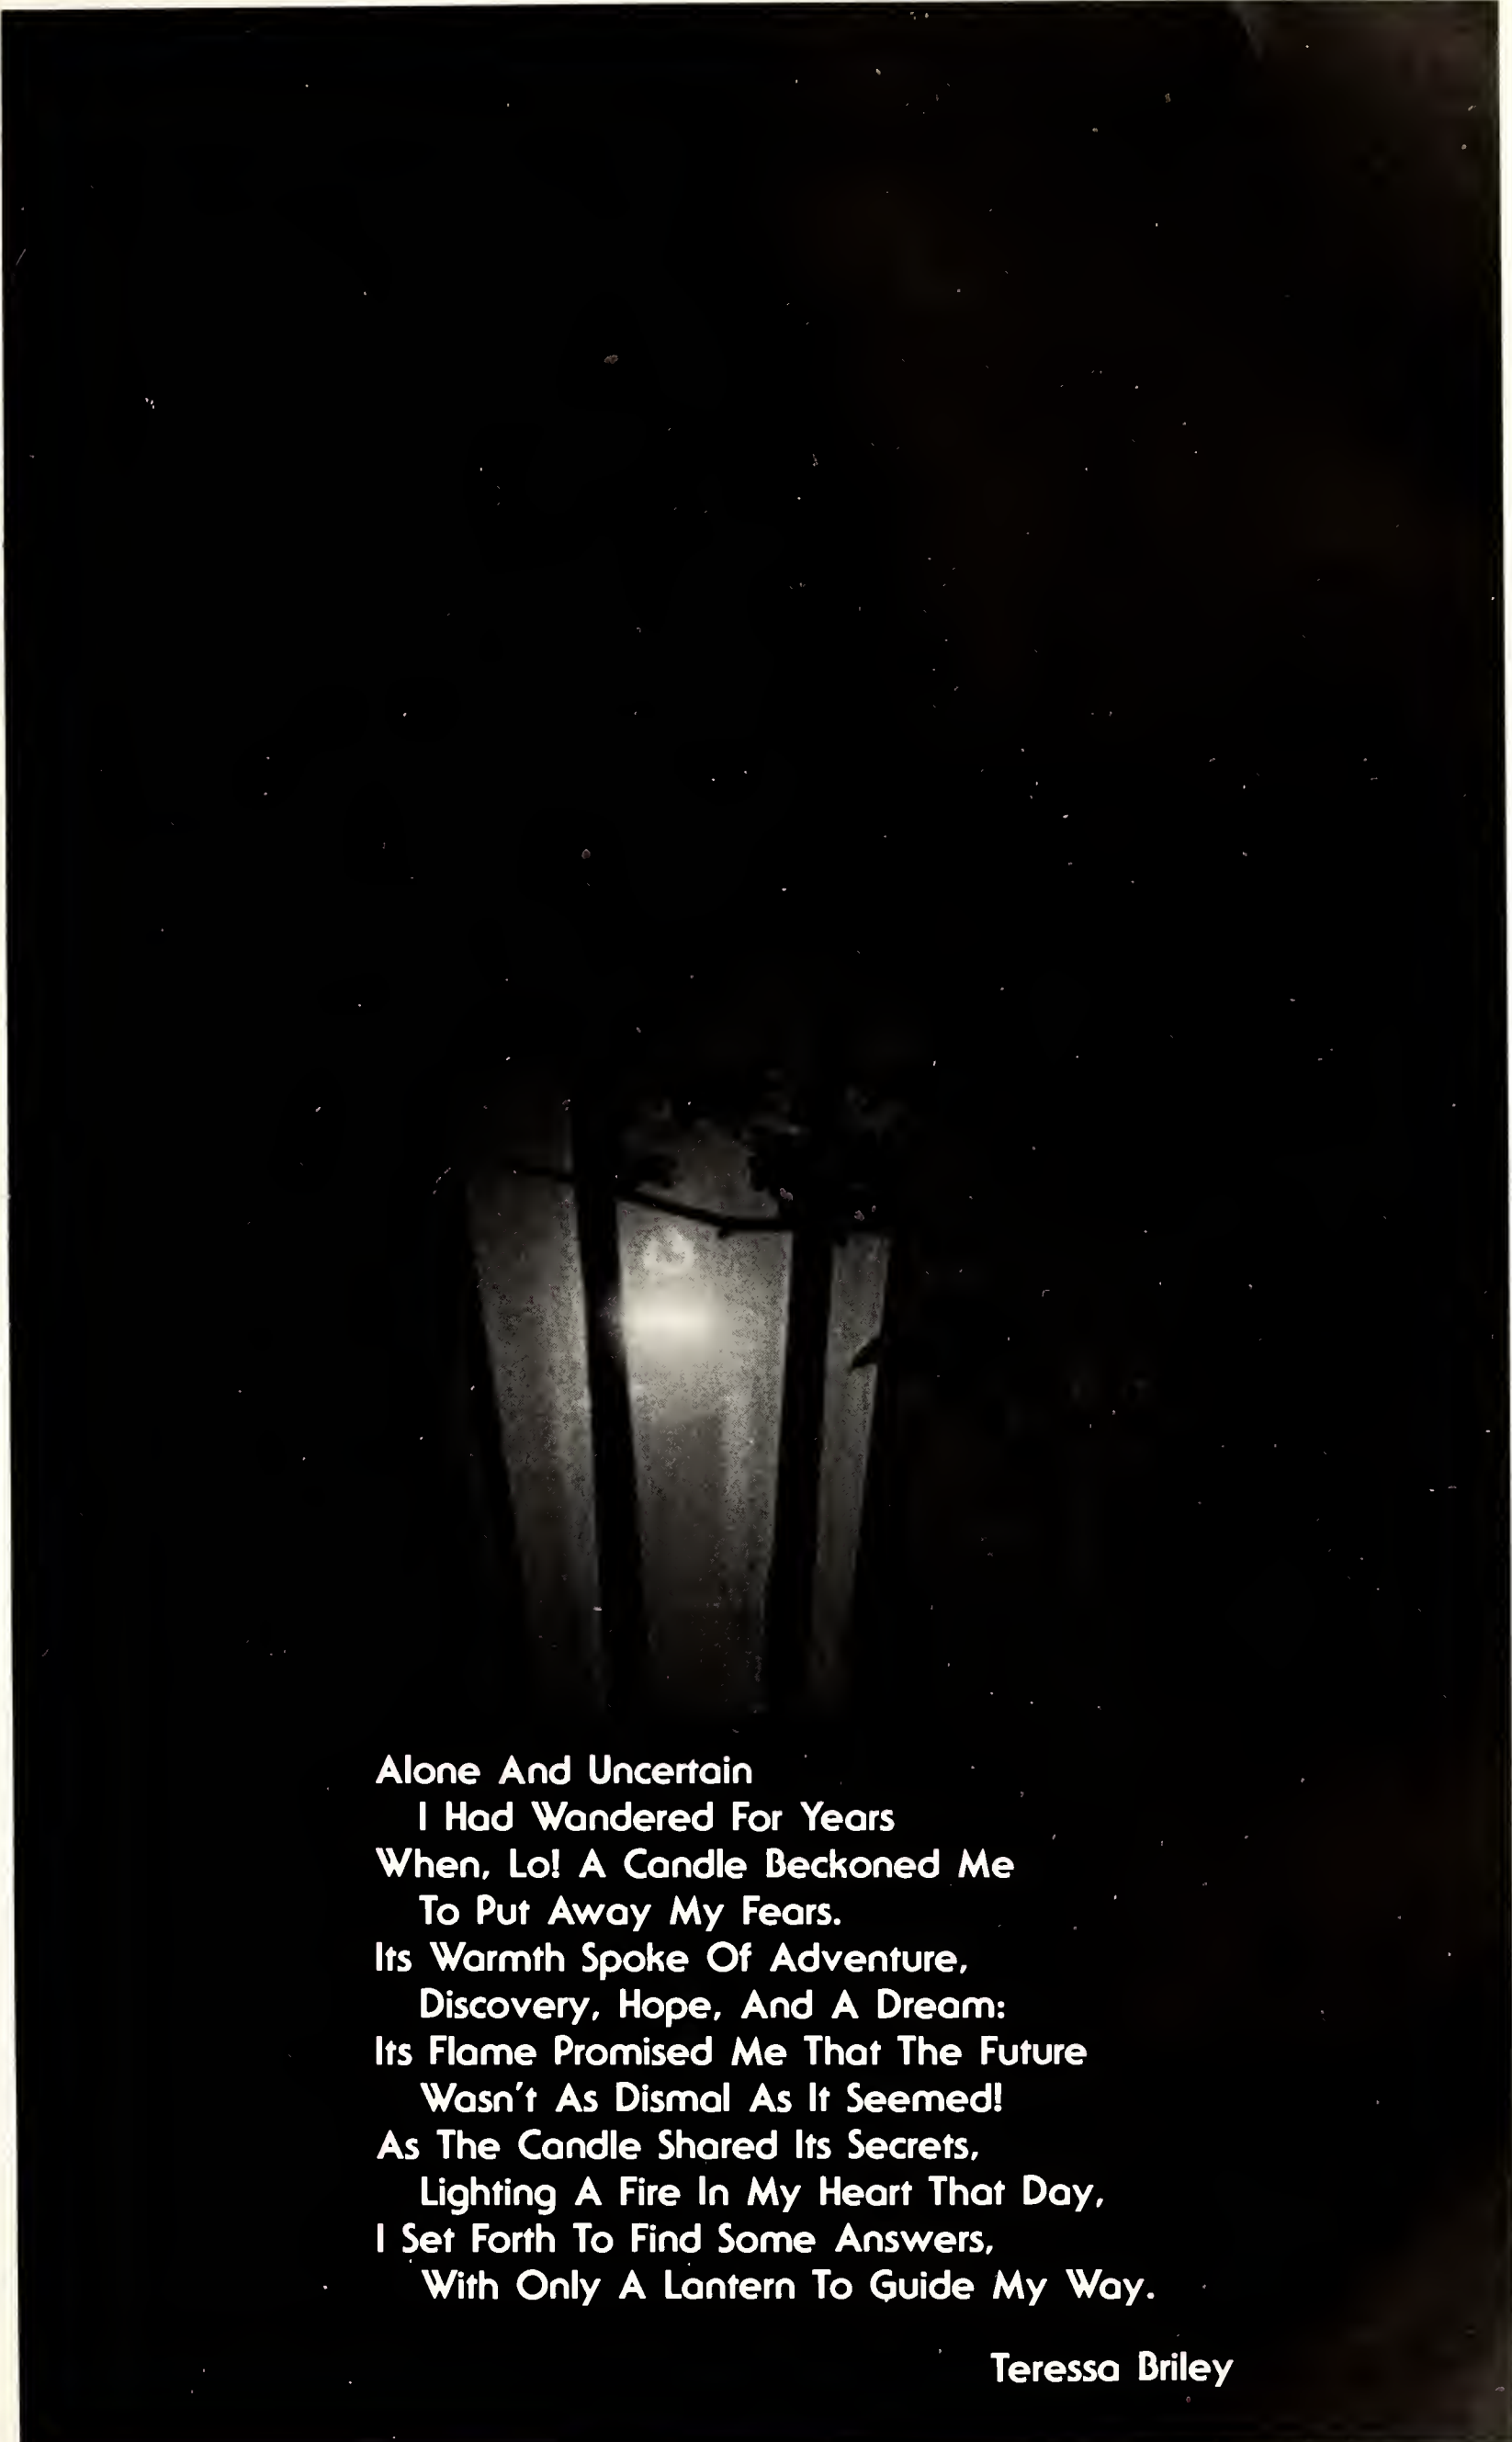

So, before you complain about the lateness of this book, the poor quality of much of it, or the 83 blank pages at the end, ask yourself how much consistent work YOU did on it. At least part of one of those blank pages has YOUR NAME on it!

Alone And Uncertain
I Had Wandered For Years
When, Lo! A Candle Beckoned Me
To Put Away My Fears.
Its Warmth Spoke Of Adventure,
Discovery, Hope, And A Dream:
Its Flame Promised Me That The Future
Wasn't As Dismal As It Seemed!
As The Candle Shared Its Secrets,
Lighting A Fire In My Heart That Day,
I Set Forth To Find Some Answers,
With Only A Lantern To Guide My Way.

Homecoming 1980

With barely time to catch their breath, Lambuth students, staff, alumni and supporters concluded the inaugural activities of Dr. Harry Gilmer and launched Homecoming, "Lambuth's Tomorrow," on Friday, November 21.

The annual parade began at 3:30 p.m. and wound its way through downtown Jackson and on to the gazebo at Casey Jones Village. Lambuth cheerleaders took time out to lead the crowd in a spirited pep rally at the gazebo before returning to campus. Prizes were awarded to the top three entries and were given on the basis of originality, creativity, and representation of the Homecoming theme. First place went to the Freshmen class entry, second place to Kappa Sigma, and third place to Sigma Kappa.

The Homecoming Queen and her court were announced Friday night at the Student Government Association Homecoming Dance held in the J.A. Williamson Cafeteria on campus. Ellen Claire Evans, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William Evans, II was crowned the 1980-81 Homecoming Queen. Ellen, a sophomore biology major, was crowned by Miss Terri Townsend, 1979-80 Homecoming Queen. Reggie Kilzer of Trenton, Tennessee, escorted Ellen. Other members of the court also presented at the dance were: first maid, Jan King of Bells, escorted by David Wilkins; second maid, Mary Clayton of Jackson, escorted by Jim Powell; third maid, Leslie Smith of Waverly, escorted by David Brehmer; and fourth maid, Grace Albers of Poplar Bluff, Mo., escorted by Jim Irvin.

The Saturday festivities began with hot air balloon rides given by local balloonist, Dean Birmingham.
